There are eight islands in the group, but the one half million people inhabit only seven of them. This is because one island is used by our country for target practice. Only six of the islands are open to everybody. One lone island is owned by an individual who is determined to maintain a strain of pure Hawaiian blood, so intermarriage of races is not permitted and visitors aren't even allowed without a pass.

As a whole, the Hawaiian people are friendly and for about two months had an excellent example of a Hawaiian good will ambassador without portfolio in our midst. His name is Sadeo Ogasawara. But folks just called him Cowboy.

Graham Ordered Off of Coffee

MELBOURNE (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham's doctor has ordered him off coffee and has rationed his tea.

Acid Thrower Is Arrested

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Police today arrested the acid thrower who damaged a priceless Rubens painting in a Munich museum.

Walter Menzl, who had identified himself as the vandal in a letter to newsmen, surrendered voluntarily. Menzl presumably will be given a mental examination.

Cites Danger of Radiation

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — A California health consultant says radiation will cause one of every four birth mutations this year.

Dr. Dell F. Dullum, an expert in radiologic health for the State Department of Public Health, expressed belief the cause would be strontium 90 from atomic fallout. He predicted in a speech to a group of health officers that the mutation rate would increase with use of X-rays at the present rate.

He said four of every 100 babies have some defect.

Would Protect Court's Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) proposes that the Supreme Court's review powers be protected by a constitutional amendment.

Introducing a resolution to this effect, Javits said: "A serious controversy is brewing which may again endanger the traditional role of the U.S. Supreme Court as ultimate arbiter on the construction of the Constitution."

DOROTHY DIX

Wooer's Marital Hurry
Brings Loads of Worry

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Several years ago I fell in love with my boss, a married man. Realizing the hopelessness of my situation, I left the job, did some traveling and finally came home to look after my aged parents. The man's wife died three years ago. I wrote him a note of condolence, we got together, in a few months he declared his love for me. He wanted to wait two years before marrying me, out of respect for his wife's memory. But when the two years were up, I was in no position to marry. My father had died and mother was very ill. My fiancé declared that his waiting period was over and, if I couldn't marry him, he'd get someone else. This he did but in no time at all he was back on my doorstep crying that he wasn't happy and had made a terrible mistake. That's where the situation stands. He says he's sure something will happen and if it'll only wait he knows we'll be together again. My mother has died, I'm entirely alone in the world and wonder if there is any solution to this tragic situation — Paula D.

Dear Paula: You honorably surrendered the man once and you'll have to put on a repeat performance. It's doubtful that he's as unhappy as he would have you believe, so don't sit around moaning and hoping for circumstances to bring you together again. Look around for companionship (male preferred) and perhaps you can build up a new romance. I hope so.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
The only thing in the way of marriage between my girl friend and me is her 16-year-old son. We both agree he's lazy. He gets up at noon, hangs around all afternoon watching TV and often sits in front of the set till midnight. She wants me to do something with him but I say that's her job — W. A.

Dear W. A.: It's a job that should have been tackled years ago. Your girl friend had better wake up to the fact that her son needs handling — by her, before he needs it by the police. This boy is headed for trouble and anything you can do to buck him up to disciplining the young man will be an act of real charity.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I was recently invited to a sports dinner by an outstanding basketball player. Ever since, he has been calling for another date. How can I tell him I don't want to go out with him? Ann B.

Dear Ann: Pass the smelling salts. I'm thoroughly used to girls in love with sports heroes who won't give them a tumble, but this is my first experience with a gal who refuses dates with a famed athlete. All I can suggest is to tell him the truth.

Negroes Abandon
Kansas City Protest

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A Negro group has cancelled plans for a protest march through Kansas City's downtown business district Saturday.
The demonstration was scheduled because five downtown store restaurants have refused to serve Negroes.

News Briefs

TOWNSEND, Mont. (AP) — Telephone service was restored across the Missouri River today by bow and arrow.
A light plane, flying along the river, snapped the Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co. rural line. The plane apparently was not damaged.
Repairman Ken O'Dell, using a 50-pound bow and an arrow tied to a nylon fishing line, spanned the river with one shot. It is 300 feet wide at that point. Heavy twine was tied to the line and pulled across. Then a hemp rope and finally the heavy wire.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Swedish actress Ingrid Bergman, absent from Hollywood for a decade, will appear on the Oscar awards show April 6, the Motion Picture Academy announced.
An Academy spokesman said she has accepted an invitation from the show's producer Jerry Wald, and probably will be accompanied from Europe by her new husband Lars Schmidt.

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP) — This town in the subtropical lower Rio Grande Valley planned a picnic and sport shirt festival to point up the usual fine winter weather.
Last weekend it was too cold. The festival was set for this week.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Richard Paulsich, 41, a jeweler and the father of six, filed a complaint of "incorrigibles" against three of his sons in Juvenile Court Thursday.

He charged they ignored him, threatened him and threw stones at him. The boys are 13, 15 and 18.
The last couple of years, said Paulsich, "they've been getting worse and worse. I don't know why. They could be good boys. I want them to get straightened out before they get into serious trouble."
Paulsich accused his sons of having drinking and gambling parties in his home. He said they threatened him when he objected.

WIDE OPEN—Here's John Thomas, the Boston University high jump sensation, in typical mouth-open, extra-effort form as he tries to clear the bar. Only a 17-year-old freshman, he holds world indoor record of seven feet.

A BOONE FOR STAGE AND TV—From television frontier gunman to The Great Emancipator is the transition made by actor Richard Boone. Broadway hails his portrayal of Lincoln in new play, "The Rivals," while television audiences continue to give him raving to his Paladins in "Have Gun, Will Travel." Photo at left shows Boone in his Paladins role—moustached, sideburned and sinister. Center is Boone as he interprets Lincoln at the time of his debates with Douglas. Additional comparison is photo of beardless Lincoln, right.

'30s with some modern touches. The adjective "kookie" is the most noted of this new lingo; I find it used almost universally by show folk. Possibly stemming from cuckoo, it describes something wild, weird or wonderful. Synonyms: ways out, cool.

Among Edd's etymology: Don't blow your jets—Don't get angry.

Anisville — A place full of people. A Washington—Dollar bill. Pile up the Z's — Sleep.

You're getting the beat—You're beginning to understand.

Just about the only sorrow of Edd now expect him to talk like a koko in real life. He's not from squaresville, but he isn't kookie, either. He leads a normal bachelor life in a home just above, oddly enough, the Sunset Strip.

He is so busy that he doesn't have time to join the mushroom people who park into the Sunset Strip coffee houses. And he wouldn't if he could. "All those koks do is sit around and stare at each other," he said.

Mushroom people: Those who come out at night to get their kicks.

DOGS

CITY DOGS

By FARLEY MANNING
National Dog Welfare Guild

One often hears the opinion voiced, usually by someone who has never owned a dog, that dogs should be banned from large cities. These people often mean well, basing their opinion on the claim that city dogs have little chance to romp on the busy streets, that they lead a completely artificial life and are generally unhappy.

Perhaps the sharpest protests against any movement to exclude dogs from cities would come from the dogs themselves. Ever since Man abandoned the cave and moved into huts, finally into villages and cities, the dog has tagged along willingly and happily. He has never failed to adapt himself to Man's living conditions, for with the possible exception of Man himself, the dog is very likely the most adaptable of all creatures.

Man dogs from cities Anyone who advocates this should watch a guide dog threading its way across a crowded street, giving the use of its own eyes to its sightless master and performing the job with that dedicated air which all guide dogs seem to assume. Or watch a child in a congested tenement district playing with his adoring puppy and learning for the first time, perhaps, that love and gentleness exist even in the grim and limited world of the slum.

Whether a minority likes it or not, chances are that the dog will remain a fixture in our cities as long as men choose to live in them. And if there's anything to all this talk about outer space, don't be surprised on the day the first man blasts off to settle in a new environment on Mars or the moon to see his dog zooming along with him, neatly encased, in his own little space suit with just room enough to wag his tail.

Dazzling Beaches

Careful planting lines the brick walk leading back from the granite pier erected in 1917, when Beauvoir was a home for Confederate soldiers. The Confederate burying ground is in a deeply shaded grove back of the house.

Bala Events
Each season of the year the Gulf Coast has more than its quota of bala affairs, demonstrating that every community can have a path beaten to its door by developing its own Magle Circle of interesting things to do and see.

Here the annual Spring Pilgrimage is a highlight. Unlike other sections of the country, these tours to the beautiful homes and gardens are free and you can follow them at will. Under the sponsorship of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Club, each community has its day. (This year the Pilgrimage at Long Beach is Feb. 15; Bay-Waveland 17; Gulfport, 19; Pascagoula, 21; Biloxi, 22; Pass Christian 23.)

Other colorful annual events include the Blessing of the Shrimp Fleet early in June at Biloxi and Pascagoula, an ancient old-world ceremony brought here by the French. Gulfport yearly attracts 200,000 to its Deep Sea Fishing Race which is held over the July 4th holidays. Pass Christian now offers thrilling polo matches.

Hospitable City
Biloxi, founded in 1699 by the French explorer d'Iberville and said to be the first permanent white settlement in the Mississippi Valley, is a curious but hospitable mixture of the old and new South. A few blocks from the beachfront and you are in a busy little southern city concerned not only with tourists but its shrimp packing plants, big Knessler Air Force Base and ante bellum homes.

From Ocean Springs the highway turns inland for 14 miles before you again see the Gulf of Mexico. Don't miss the little town of Gautier on the west bank of the Sine River, subject of romantic Indian legends. The "Old Place" a plantation era home of rare charm and interesting furnishings, has been opened to the public by the fifth generation of the Gautier family. The walls of the restored old house are built of oyster shell mortar and timbers taken from cypress swamps. Even the original steps which were used to climb into the four-poster tester beds, piled high with many mattresses, are still intact.

Across the Sine River is Pascagoula, city of Indian lore, beautiful old homes, ship building, fishing and the manufacture of duck decoys. Our first objective was Old Spanish Fort, still as solid and intact as it was when it was built by a French naval officer in 1718. An assortment of fascinating historic relics cram it from wall to wall.

Majestic Cypress

If you have the time and are of an adventurous spirit, yet a local guide to take you into the mysterious "back country" swamps of the Sine River. Have there still are vast stands of majestic cypress their "knees" just out of the water, around the base of the trees.

And your camera with color film for invasion of Alabama's part of the Gulf Coast. The Marie Circle curves south from U.S. 90 to Bell-Irwin Gardens and home, one of Dixie's exquisite beauty spots. Perfection of planning and planning insured a year-around cycle of vivid hues and fragrance. Starting in the fall with chrysanthemums, the ardent but exotic displays continue with azaleas that range from red and pink to lavender and white. Much bluing jasmine, parrotias, mountain laurel, dogwood, redbud, sycamore. In April you will be captivated by the rose gardens: summer offers hibiscus, gladiolus and lilacs.

We found relaxation in the sun and sea music in the air when we drove across the four-mile-long causeway bridge that opened Dauphin Island to motorists four years ago. This new playground stretches west like a narrow finger of white sand thrust into the cobalt waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

Historic Fort

Dauphin Island is new only to the travelers and vacationers. DeRoto and his wife, Isabella were early visitors and the first three French governors of the Louisiana Territory had homes here. President Madison ordered it seized in the war of 1812. Historic Fort Gaines on the eastern tip of the island, is an attractive feature. From its well-protected bastions you can look out over Mobile Bay. It is easy to visualize the Civil War battle when Admiral Farragut sailed through the channel to victory and the capture of Mobile, uttering his famous cry "Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead!"

The Marie Circle curves north (Alabama 163) to Mobile, gracious city of southern tradition, flowers, fishing and busy docks. Too event of the year is the Azalea Trail Festival, two months (February and March) of beauty and gaiety starting with the Mardi Gras parade.

The Smile Trail is lighted each night and includes tours through the city's historic homes, gardens and parks. There are outdoor art shows, symphony concerts, sports events, fairs. Climax is the coronation of the Azalea Trail Queen (Feb. 22) in a ceremony which harks back the eras when cotton was king.

LIFE AHEAD

Only four years have passed, but what lies ahead? Will this be a life of service to God and country... or will it be bleak, full of dissipation and sin? Parents—the job is yours! Financial security is good, but don't stop there. Much more than a life is at stake—there is a soul to be reconciled, to be guided. Then tend him, nurture him—for "A child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame," Prov. 29:15. Remember, his life will only be a projection of yours. Let us help make it a "Good Life Ahead."
